Number 42.

4-H GROUP HONORED—Mrs. Bill Combs of Whitesburg, vice president of the Letcher County Homemakers Council, received a plaque on behalf of the county 4-H Leaders Council at Farm and Home Week in Lexington recently. The 4-H council won the plaque for outstanding leadership in the 10-county district. Earl Netherland, president of the Kentucky 4-H Leaders Council, presented the plaque. Myrel Brown is president of the local 4-H Council.

State Senate Passes Bill Which UMW Says Will Close Its Hospitals

The Kentucky Senate has passed by an overwhelming majority a bill which United Mine Workers officials say will force them to close their chain of hospitals in Eastern Kentucky. The Senate approved the measure by a vote of 29 to 6. The bill is now in the hands of the Rules Committee of the House of Representatives, which will decide whether it should be called to the floor of the House for a vote. Should the House pass the bill, it will become law unless Gov. Chandler vetoes it. The measure is sponsored by Dr. J. E. Johnson, Pike County Democrat, a member of the Senate. He said it was written for him by the Kentucky Medical Association.

Specifically, the bill would make it illegal for anyone to operate a health and medical care plan which did not permit members to choose their own doctors. It eliminates Blue Cross and Blue Shield plans from its provisions. Dr. Johnson told the Senate the bill would permit members of the UMW to choose their own doctors instead of being forced to accept medical care at UMW hospitals from physicians designated by the UMW. Sen. Merlin B. Fields, Hazard, and Sen. Denver C. Knuckles, Middlesboro, opposed the bill. Fields said it would force the UMW hospitals to close down. (Sam Caddy, district secretary of the UMW, made a similar statement last week.)

Attorney Says Court May Pay Jailer Only $125

Letcher Fiscal Court may legally pay Jailer Robert Sexton only $125 a month for his services as custodian of the courthouse, the attorney general's office ruled this week. Last week, Asst. Atty. Gen. Earle V. Powell wrote Sexton that the court had to pay him whatever it had paid his predecessor, Johnny Fulton, because compensation of an elected official cannot legally be changed during the official's term of office. Sexton had written to ask for an opinion after the court, at its February meeting, set his pay at $125 a month for janitor services. Fulton received $209 a month from the previous fiscal court. County Atty. Byrd Hogg asked Powell to reconsider his opinion. Hogg pointed out that some of the money paid to Fulton represented rent on a house and utilities for the house. Only $125 was designated as salary. (Continued on Back Page)

Jenkins Boy Dies In Wreck

By R. Percy Elkins
This week's sports column will be devoted to Emory Smallwood, who was killed instantly when his 1958 car failed to negotiate a curve at the lower end of East Jenkins. The car skidded 120 feet into the cliff, shot 50 yards back across the highway and into the air, and crashed to the ground 30 feet below after smashing into a tree. This tragedy occurred at 1 a.m. Sunday. Two other Jenkins High School seniors, Charles Stofor and Tommy Whitaker, were en route home with Smallwood. Both boys were hospitalized. Whitaker was injured slightly and in a state of shock; Stofor was unconscious and in critical condition. Smallwood, who participated in basketball, baseball, and (Continued on Back Page)

Change Or Be Left Behind Rest Of The World, Planners Tell Eastern Kentucky Cities And Counties

"We're going to have to change in Eastern Kentucky if we're going to keep up with the rest of the United States and the world," Hobart Wooten, city manager of Hazard, said this week. Wooten addressed a meeting of the Eastern Kentucky Planning Commission at Hazard. Guests at the meeting were some 50 city and county officials from Eastern Kentucky, who had been invited to hear a discussion of federal aid available to the area under flood-relief priorities which expire next July. Wooten, whose city is participating in three federal-aid programs for improvement, told his fellow officials to expect criticism when they start such programs because Eastern Kentucky residents are "reluctant to accept aid" and "reluctant to change."

He pointed out that through federal aid his town will soon have a new parking lot to relieve its congested traffic situation, some good housing for low-income families and a new sewer system. Hazard is the only town in Eastern Kentucky which has gotten its projects under way already, Wooten said. "There's no use denying it's a lot of hard work, and there's a lot of red tape involved," he added, "but the priorities can cut out a lot of red tape." B. F. Reed of Drift, chairman of the Eastern Kentucky Planning Commission which was appointed by the governor after the 1957 floods, said the most difficult job in improving conditions in Eastern Kentucky is "to get the people to make the effort."

"Roads and schools are the greatest objection of industries considering locating in Eastern Kentucky," Reed said. "I never saw any place prosperous that didn't have good means of transportation." The job of the commission headed by Reed is to find ways of improving the living standards and economy of Eastern Kentucky. "There are very few communities in Eastern Kentucky ready for industry at this time," Reed told the city and county officials. "We first need to clean up, improve our school systems, and improve the administration of our local government. Much face-lifting remains to be done." During an all-day session, the city officials heard explanations from federal and state officials concerning programs through which cities and counties in Eastern Kentucky can get planning and financial help. William Pate, assistant commissioner of economic development for Kentucky, said his department soon plans to set up an office in Pikeville to be used by a permanent secretary for the Eastern Kentucky Planning Commission and by professional planners on the staff of the Department of Economic Development. The planning commission only recently obtained money for a secretary and has not hired one yet. Walter Shouse, director of the Division of Planning in the Department of Economic Development, said his division will have six new planners in addition to the six it now has as soon as the new state budget goes into effect in July. Then, he said, the division will have enough help to send workers to Eastern Kentucky cities which ask for aid in city planning. Meanwhile, he said, the division would provide enough help to cities to enable them to apply for federal aid. (Continued on Back Page)

No Surplus Of Supplies Bought From Eagle, Fiscal Court Committee Says

The Mountain Eagle was cleared today of charges that it had sold an excessive amount of supplies to the Letcher Fiscal Court during the term of former Judge James M. Caudill. A committee appointed by the fiscal court said the supplies which were purchased were not wasteful, but are needed for the ordinary operation of the offices and courts in Letcher County. Former Sheriff Robert Collins touched off the investigation last month when he charged that there is $1,500 worth of supplies in the county judge's office "which had been there for some time" and which were unusable. Collins did not say what the supplies were or specify why they were unusable. After Collins' charge, the fiscal court appointed a committee composed of County Attorney F. Byrd Hogg and Magistrates J. C. Day and W. R. Bates to investigate the matter. The following is the text of the report they made following the investigation:

- Gentlemen:
- Pursuant to your appointment and request I examined the supplies in the office of the County Judge to determine whether or not $1,500.00 worth of supplies was purchased by the outgoing County Judge. My search revealed the following:
- 1) 4 boxes of letter onion skin and second sheets for copy.
 - 2) Approximately 5 1/2 boxes of legal size stationery.
 - 3) A supply of attachments, warrants, search warrants, and other legal forms for use in the 8 magistrate courts, County Court, Quarterly Court and Circuit Courts.
 - 4) Miscellaneous pencils, paper.

City To Hire Engineer To Survey Needs Of Its Sewer System

The Whitesburg City Council has authorized employment of an engineer to determine what needs to be done, and how much it would cost, to put the city's water and sewer systems in first class operating condition. The council acted after Folace Fields, a member of the water commission, said the sewer system is in bad condition and is not working. Mayor Arthur Banks agreed with Fields that something must be done. "Not a thing is working, and it's just got to be fixed," Banks said. The mayor said that when the weather warms up a bit, the odor from the system will be so strong that the city will face suit after suit. "This is the poorest run system I've ever seen in my life and it's going to take money to fix it up," Fields said, adding "in my opinion in another two years you'll get another bunch in to tear it up all over again." Fields said the system is in such sad shape that it is impossible at present to estimate just what should be done to repair it. But he expressed belief the commission itself will have the funds to pay for repairs once it collects some $5,000 outstanding in delinquent water bills. The delinquent bills and the water and sewer problems were the subject of an hour-long discussion between the mayor, councilmen, and Fields. They all appeared in agreement that the city will start discontinuing service to persons who don't pay their bills. Fields said he thinks the survey should be made before the city spends any money. He said that although most everyone assumes a new pump is needed, further study is necessary to be certain the right equipment is purchased.

Jenkins Girl Wins Contest Council Names New Park Board

PIKEVILLE Ky. — Betty Jo Welch, Jenkins High School senior, took first place in piano solo in the music and art contests held Saturday at Pikeville College by the seventh district of the Kentucky Federation of Women's Clubs. Miss Welch, who was the representative of the Jenkins Woman's Club, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sterling Welch of Jenkins. She played the first movement of Beethoven's "Sonata Pathétique." She is the piano pupil of Luke Berlin, with whom she studies at Norton, Va. The Jenkins girl and Jim Collins, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Collins, Whitesburg, who won top honors in band-instrument playing with a trombone solo, received $5 each in prize money. They are to take part in the statewide finals April 20 in Louisville. Collins, a junior in Pikeville High School, is first-chair trombone player in the Pikeville High School concert band, and plays the lead trombone part in the dance band led by Pikeville High band director Jack Taylor. His selection was Gershwin's "Rhapsody in Blue."

William Floyd Mercer and Hoover Dawahare have been named to serve on the Whitesburg Parks Commission, the agency which manages the city swimming pool. They were appointed by the city council after the resignations of R. P. Price, Woodrow Dawahare, and Dr. Lee Moore. The council plans to ask Harold McIntosh to serve as the third member of the commission. Moore, Price and Dawahare resigned in a joint letter to the council in which they stated the city park still is in the developmental stage, and expressed the hope that the council will provide funds so that the park program can be fully developed.

First Cake Takes Cake

Sue Breeding, a senior at Letcher High School, was the winner of the final cake baking contest for Home Economics II students sponsored by the Kentucky Power Company in Hazard Feb. 22. Girls from the Hazard District participated, which included 12 different high schools. All cakes were chocolate with a choice of the icing. Sue's cake was a walnut fudge with confectioner's sugar icing. The prize was a 3-speed phonograph. Each girl who went to the final contest was the winner of a cake-baking contest held in her own school, in which there were two divisions, Home Ec. I and Home Ec. II. Winner of these contests received travel-stamp awards. The winner in the first division was from Hindman High School. Miss Breeding is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Begie Breeding of Jeremiah, Ky. She is 16 years old and is an honor student. It is reported that the first cake she had ever made was the one she made in practice for the contest. She gave all credit for her winning to her Home Economics teacher, Mrs. James Baldwin, who, she says, "taught her everything."

Road To Seco To Be Resurfaced

The State Highway Department plans to resurface Kentucky 15 from Whitesburg to Seco this summer. The department is advertising this week for bids on the project. Bids will be opened March 20 at Frankfort. The repaving will start at Pine Mountain Junction and continue to the end of the concrete paving at Seco, a total of 8.794 miles. The department also announced it will take bids at the same time on resurfacing of the Whitesburg-Hazard road (also Ky. 15) from the Letcher County line, northwest of Isom, to the Perry County line near Sassafras. The project is in Knott County and runs 11.085 miles. The road was torn badly by the recent freezing weather.

Tournament On

Whitesburg and Fleming won first-round games in the district basketball tournament in progress this week at Jenkins. Whitesburg defeated Kingdom Come 71 to 40, and Fleming won over Jenkins 54 to 48. Tonight Whitesburg plays Letcher.

Hogg Gets OK On Plan To Sue For Back Taxes

The State Department of Revenue this week gave a go-ahead signal to County Atty. F. Byrd Hogg's plans to file suits to collect delinquent real estate taxes in Letcher County. D. M. Magill, state local finance officer, wrote Hogg that the department would co-operate with him and sent him forms drawn up by the department for filing such suits. Hogg said he plans to try to collect taxes which have not been paid over the past eight years. He said he would start with "A" and file the suits alphabetically in order to avoid any accusations of prejudice. Magill said Hogg would have an order from Letcher Fiscal Court directing him to collect the taxes. The suits have to be filed in the name of the state revenue commissioner.

Play Rates Good

Whitesburg High School drama students won a rating of "good" at the Drama Festival at Pikeville College Feb. 22. The students presented a one-act play, "Gray Bread." They were coached by Mrs. Ernest Trooper. Characters were portrayed by Virginia Banks, Phyllis Stallard, Mary Grace Caudill, and Betty Cornette. Allene Gibson and Joyceleen Kincer were prompters. The group also presented the play before the student body at Whitesburg. They gave another one-act play, "The Storm," before a fourth-period study hall at the school last Thursday. Actors were Billy Joe Hall, Flana Holstein, Dan Collier, Shelby Wright and Anne Lewis.

THE LORD HELPS THOSE . . .

Persons who sat in on the Eastern Kentucky Development Commission meeting at Hazard this week were impressed by the apparent determination on the part of many Eastern Kentucky cities to take positive action to better their communities.

A delegation from Cumberland, headed by Sam Isaacs, Jr., talked enthusiastically about planning and zoning, officials from Corbin talked of new sewers and new water plant installation, while city fathers from Ashland, Hazard, Pikeville, Harlan and several other cities talked of tearing down old buildings and building new ones, and taking steps to provide new housing for low income families. There also was considerable interest shown in such things as new parking lots.

But Neon, Jenkins and Whitesburg had nothing to talk about. In fact, none of Letcher County's city officials went to the meeting.

We came away from the meeting with the feeling that our neighbors in other Eastern Kentucky counties are going to be doing some big things in the way of improvements during the next few years. And, unless Whitesburg, Neon and Jenkins are careful, all are going to be left behind.

There are many federal aid programs available for almost any kind of renewal or development project. Other Eastern Kentucky cities are getting ready to take advantage of the programs. But to date, no Letcher county city has taken any action toward any of the programs . . . in fact, none so far has even indicated an interest in them.

Hazard has found a way to help solve its parking problems without spending a dime of local funds. Uncle Sam puts up the money. There is no reason why Whitesburg or Neon could not do the same thing.

Under an urban renewal project, Hazard is tearing out some old buildings at the end of Main Street which were flooded last year. Once the buildings are torn down, the street will be straightened out, and a parking lot will be installed. The federal government is putting up two-thirds of the total cost. The city has made arrangements to put up its third out of revenues expected to come from the parking meters. We could do the same.

We heard something at the meeting which gives us a great deal of concern. Forrest Johnson, head of the state highway department's division of planning, outlined some of the department's long-range plans for Eastern Kentucky.

Speaking in general terms, Johnson said the department expects to rebuild most of state route 15 from Hazard to Winchester. Then, it will build a new road from Hazard to Pikeville, and new roads from Pikeville to Prestonsburg, Paintsville and then to Ashland. Plans would provide for good roads capable of handling a high volume of fast-moving traffic.

The plan, if carried through, would by-pass Letcher County completely. Virtually all traffic would be routed around the county.

We don't want, and can't afford, to have that happen to us. The only way we can do anything about it is to start speaking out, and making our wishes known. But if we in Letcher County can't find the time to start attending meetings and showing an interest in state and federal help when it is offered to us, then we shouldn't be surprised if we are forgotten.

Actually, Letcher County was represented at the meeting by County Judge Arthur Dixon. But he can't do the job alone. Where we had one representative, other counties and cities had a half-dozen or more . . . all deeply interested in what was going on.

EVERY NICKEL HELPS

Every resident of Letcher County who pays taxes should be grateful to County Attorney Byrd Hogg for his decision to file suit against the many property owners who have for years refused or failed to pay the taxes due on their property.

To say the least, it is grossly unfair to the honest man who comes in each year to pay his property taxes not to make every attempt to collect taxes from those who don't pay when they should.

The courthouse is filled with stacks of tax bills that have been allowed to accumulate, uncollected, over many years. Some of the unpaid bills run back 30 years or more. In some instances, the property involved has been more or less abandoned by its owners, and is of no benefit to anyone. Hogg's action may force the sale of some of the property to persons who will make use of it . . . and pay taxes on it.

It should be remembered that Hogg simply is doing what the law requires him to do when he goes after the tax payments. His action in no way will affect anyone who has been paying his taxes when due.

Many of Letcher County's financial difficulties over the years have stemmed from loose enforcement of the tax laws, and correct enforcement can be expected to do much for such things as schools and roads.

In My Opinion . . .

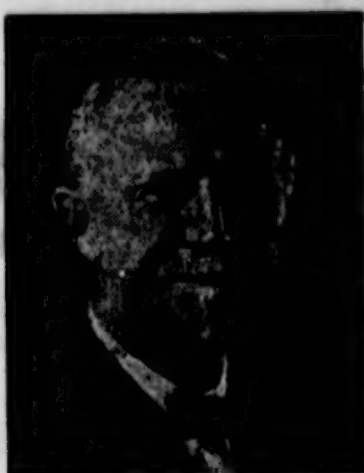

The Mountain Eagle welcomes expressions of opinion on any and all subjects from its readers, but reserves the right to reject letters considered libelous or in questionable taste and to shorten letters if necessary. Letters should be no more than 350 words in length and should be addressed "To the Editor, The Mountain Eagle, Box 190, Whitesburg, Ky."

To the Editor:

Please print this in the "In My Opinion" column. I want to thank the Editor for the nice job he is doing in printing The Mountain Eagle paper. For people who live outside of Whitesburg don't know all of what goes on in Whitesburg. I have no criticism of the Eagle paper. The only thing I want the Editor to do is keep up the good work.

The only criticism I have is for the way Whitesburg law is enforced. Frankly it is not enforced. The people who pay taxes have a right to know where the money goes and to expect the law officers to earn their salaries, which we, the people, pay. Frankly, I don't think our law officers care what happens to the people of Letcher County. All they want is the salary they

BABSON DISCUSSES IMPORTANCE OF TIME

Babson Park, Mass. Mar. 6.—Some wise man said that when anyone steals our MONEY, we have a chance to get it back; but when anyone steals our TIME, we can never replace it. This is true whether it refers simply to being late to appointments, or whether it concerns strikes, idleness, or not working efficiently.

How Large Fortunes Are Made

However, this week I will write of an entirely different use of TIME—namely, in connection with increasing the value of our investments. In fact, time and patience have been the making of most large fortunes. Of course, one must use intelligence and diversification, but the truly important requirement is TIME.

Most readers know that if they should promise to pay some person one cent the first day, and two cents the second day, and four cents the third day, and eight cents the fourth day, and so on, doubling each day for a month, the result would be fantastic. For the 31st day of the month, they would have to pay the person about $10,000,000! This is the way most large family fortunes have been created, by TIME.

How To Become A Millionaire

If you substitute years for days, start with one dollar instead of a penny, and double the amount of your investment only once each year, you could have over $100,000,000 at the end of 31 years,—after taxes, losses, trust and other fees. Certainly, with proper advice you can select each year—except in bear markets—some stock selling at one or two dollars a share which is almost certain to double within one year. Please note carefully that I do not say you can expect this same stock to double every following year.

This means that when this cheap stock doubles in value, your broker need only sell this stock and reinvest the money in some other cheap stock which will probably double in one year. I am not counting dividends in the above calculations because the stocks which are selected will be cheap non-dividend-paying stocks. But this also means you will have no income taxes to pay,—only the Federal and State "profits" or "intangible" taxes, according to where you live.

The Fly in the Ointment?

You say that there must be some trick in this story of mine. Three may be; it probably is that making these millions from ONE DOLLAR in 31 years without borrowing a penny may depend upon not too many brokers recommending the same stock. Also, there could be difficulty in either obtaining or selling such a large number of shares.

However, remember that the above illustration is based upon starting with only one dollar. As a practical matter, most every reader should be able to start the fund with $5,000 dollars, and then use the latter amount as a Reserve for errors. This Reserve would be invested more conservatively in accordance with the Babson Program supplemented by the Dewey Law of Cycles.

The True Secret of Getting the Million

I repeat, there should be no fear about being unable to select one stock which should double the first year. Moreover, the other mathematical or investment conditions can probably be met in every case. The real reason why this almost unbelievable result has not been obtained, except by a few investors, is because very few persons have the patience and persistence to carry out the program for 31 years.

Brokers, bankers, and all your friends will advise quitting this speculative program after the sum reaches $100,000, to diversify in the "blue chips, and to get an income." Ninety-five investors out of 100 will fall by the wayside and do it. This makes it possible for the other five per cent who realize the value of TIME and stick to the 31 years to reach the goal. (Go back and read again my penny illustration. This shows that the real gain comes in the last eight years.)

The Sunday School Lesson

March 9, 1952
"THE CHURCH'S INFLUENCE ON SOCIETY"
Matthew 5:13-16;
1 Thessalonians 5:4-8;
James 2:14-17
Rev. John R. Howard

This is a practical lesson. It has to do with the work of the church in the world.

First of all Jesus tells us that His disciples, who are the church, are "The SALT of the earth." What is salt? It is made up of two elements, one very positive (sodium) and the other extremely (bitingly so) negative—(Chlorine). Sodium chloride, which is the chemical name for common table salt, is one food product that we cannot do without. Man used to go long journeys seeking salt for their food. Salt was so valuable that laborers were many times paid off in salt. It is from the word "salt" that we get our word

"salary." In olden times salt came like money, it was so valuable, and was used as such.

What does salt do? Salt saves. Sodom and Gomorrah would not have been destroyed if there had been ten righteous men in these two cities. If there had been ten "salty" individuals there, God would not have permitted fire to destroy these two cities. Salt saves our food from spoiling. It saves from decay. Salt preserves our food for indefinite periods of time.

Salt not only saves, but salt savors. Food without salt is tasteless. It is insipid. We do not desire it. We turn our faces away from it. What salt does for food, saving it and making it savory, people in whom God's Spirit lives do for society. People who know right from wrong. People who love righteousness and hate iniquity. People who will not live in the wallow of filth, but insist on cleanliness.

People who will not walk in darkness, telling lies, doing evil. "He that doeth truth cometh to the light that his deeds may be made manifest that they are wrought in God." (John 3:21)

Jesus points us to the way of life. It is cleanness. God hates filth, whether it be of the body or of the mind or of the mouth. It is Light. "God is light, and in Him is no darkness at all." (1 John 1:5) Salt and light, cleanness and truth, these are the things that bring life and health and happiness to any heart, to any home, to any community, to the world. Without salt and light, the world continues its way toward destruction and fire. It is corrupt, awaiting only the destruction at the hands of God who is "the Way, the Truth and the Light."

How does a person become Salt? How can we attain unto the light, becoming a part of it?

are getting. They don't even enforce the law about dogs, and one thing I resent every time I come to Whitesburg, there is a law against vulgarity. I get insulted by some dirty remark made as I walk up the streets by some bum who never does anything but walk the streets.

Another thing I don't like is to see little children and sick people starve while nobody does anything about it. Where does Welfare spend its money? Where is the tax money going? I think the people need to know the truth about such things. The thing I would like is for the Editor to find out and print it so all could read it. I am a Christian woman and think things should be done right.

If you can't print this I still think you are doing fine with the paper. I and some more from Day, Ky., are standing by to help if you need it. Keep up the good work.

Yours truly,
D. D. Day
Day, Ky.

To the Editor:

After reading the article written by Jesse Adams of Premium, Ky., I'd like to express my opinion on a few things. Why is that the lower end of Letcher County is completely ignored? The only time we hear from Whitesburg is when our taxes are due. Yes, we have asked for help so much on our road that we are almost ashamed to ask any more. Right now should we need an ambulance in this neighborhood it would be impossible to get to the home.

Then speaking of more taxes to rebuild the schools in the upper part of the county, I wish a few of the higher class could take a look at what my children are going to school in here at Bluefield, you can see the sky or the ground either way you look. The windows are out and a dangerous contraption of a stove for heat. I don't see how our building has stood this long. We could never get the well cleaned out until last year. They always told our teacher to get the parents to do the job. Of course that job, the mothers couldn't do, and the fathers were all working, part of them in another state, trying to make a living, then call for taxes, to build better schools. Our bus that carries the high school students is such as the rest won't have. It's jammed so full that a wreck wouldn't let one out alive.

It seems like we have always had a struggle over our school. One year we failed to get a teacher until about September.

"A city that is set on a hill cannot be hid. Neither do men light a candle, and put it under a bushel, but on a candlestick; and it giveth light unto all that are in the house. Let your light so shine before men, that they may see your good works and glorify your Father which is in heaven." (Matthew 5:14-16)

We become Salt, we are made light, when we come to Jesus at Calvary, there to die, there to become a new creature; there to take up our cross and follow Him. "Now are ye clean through the word which I have spoken unto you. Abide in me and I in you . . ." (John 15:3, 4).

Faith in Jesus Christ, walking together with Him in love, having for a helmet, the hope of salvation: this is how a person becomes a disciple of Christ, this is how a person becomes salt and light. God is at work in the world, working in His children, blessing the world, saving the earth, through those in whom He dwells. "Without faith it is impossible to please Him; for he that cometh to God must believe that He is and that He is a rewarder of them who diligently seek Him." (Hebrews 11:6)

A man who walks by faith will not seek the darkness of drunkenness. A man who walks by faith will not walk in despair and hopelessness. "I am the light of the world: he that followeth me shall not walk in darkness, but shall have the light of life." (John 8:12)

Finally, faith must prove itself through works. A vision is not sufficient. It must be poured in concrete. If we see a brother or sister "naked and destitute of daily food, and say unto them, Depart in peace, be ye warmed and filled; notwithstanding ye give them not those things which are needful to the body: what doth it profit? Even so faith, if it had not works, is dead, being alone." (James 2:16, 17)

We are not saved by works that we have done, neither does faith without works save us. Faith proves its divine nature when it grows up in love, doing the things that God would have us do. "If ye know these things, happy are ye if ye do them." (John 13:17) "Not everyone that saith unto me Lord, Lord, shall enter the Kingdom of Heaven; but he that doeth the will of my Father which is in heaven." (Matthew 7:21)

The emphasis of our lesson on the church is threefold; it tells of its value, its nature and its fruitfulness. The church is the product of God's work in the world. It is the fruit of the true vine, Christ the Lord. It is His body. The church is the bride of Christ.

Food Distribution Program Lauded

Frankfort — Kentucky's surplus commodity distribution program has been given an excellent rating by U. S. Department of Agriculture officials, State Agriculture Commissioner Ben Butler reports.

Butler said Martin Garber, head of district distribution, U.S.D.A., Washington, visited Kentucky several days to examine the state's program and said it was being operated competently and economically.

Garber was conducted on a tour of southeastern Kentucky by Thomas A. Lewis, director of commodity distribution in Kentucky.

During the past year, 12 million dollars worth of commodities was distributed in the Commonwealth. Five million dollars worth went to needy families and the rest was distributed among schools, institutions, child care centers and summer camps.

Last Week

It was a gala bunch that gathered last Thursday for Father and Son Night. It is remarkable what affects Sons can have on Dads. Or did you notice?

Bob acted as chairman and had Rev. Finch as the speaker. Preacher did give a most interesting talk and I'm quite sure a lot of Dads and Sons found plenty food for thought.

So again we come up with another very good program. Thanks Bob and Preacher.

Kiwanis Fieldhouse

The tournament starts in the fieldhouse tonight (March 4). There will be games every night Tuesday through Saturday.

BLACKKEY NEWS

By "Norene"

A family night super (pot luck) was held on Monday, Feb. 24, at 6 p.m., at the Doermann Memorial Church. At 7 p.m. the two Circles of the Women of the Church had a special joint program in observance of the Week of Prayer and self-denial for World Missions. Following this program, a group of children under the direction of Mrs. Dotson presented a play on Japan. A special offering for World Missions was received.

Jim T. Whitaker of Cumberland, father of Mrs. Maywood Back, died Friday, Feb. 28, in the Whitesburg Memorial Hospital.

The funeral was held at his home in Cumberland; then he was brought to the Old Indian Bottom Regular Baptist Church of Blackey, where the body lay in state. Burial was in the old Whitaker Cemetery Sunday.

Donnie and Floyd Mullins of Indianapolis are home visiting relatives.

Edsel Stamper of Dayton, Ohio, was home visiting his mother, Mrs. Virgie Stamper, this week-end.

Mrs. Bolivar Branson of Whitesburg visited her sister-in-law, Mrs. John D. W. Collins, this past week.

Dr. and Mrs. Gene Ison of London, Kentucky, were recent visitors of her mother, Mrs. Nora Stamp. Little Eugene was brought along for the ride.

Owingsville, seat of Bath county, was named for its most prominent early citizen, Col. Thomas Dye Owings. The site selected as the county seat was owned by Richard Menifee and Colonel Owings, who each wanted to name the town. It was decided to name the village for the man who erected the finest house in the shortest time and Colonel Owings won.

ULVAH NEWS

By Lovell Caudill

We want to send our deepest sympathy to Mrs. Maywood Back of Blackey in the loss of her father, Jim Whitaker, who died last week at the Whitesburg Memorial Hospital.

O. T. Brown is back with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Brown. He will be with them while doing some carpenter work around here.

There were church services at the home of Sol Caudill last Sunday evening. Several of his old friends and neighbors were there.

Thursday was a day that Betty Mitchell will long remember. She was given a household shower at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Burman Mitchell. She received many nice gifts, but the best thing is that Saturday, March 8, she will become Mrs. Billy Ray Whitaker. They plan to be married at her home at Red Star; the couple will then return to Ohio, where he is now employed.

Sorry to say that Mrs. Goebel Fields of Red Star is in the Mount Mary Hospital at Hazard where she has undergone an operation, but is doing fine.

Mrs. Joyce Colletta Collins and husband have been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Collins of Ulvah.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Dixon and Mrs. Allie Collins of Indianapolis, Ind., were here last week visiting their friends and families. They returned by Irvine to see their sister, Mrs. Nancy Back.

Earl Caudill has just left for a visit to see his sisters in Louisville and Cincinnati and will go on to Indianapolis, Ind., before he returns home.

Mrs. Burley Caudill has been on the sick list, but is improving some.

Uncle Wilburn Dixon of Elk Creek is spending a few days with his daughter, Artie Caudill.

SOCIAL SECURITY MEETING, MARCH 11

A public meeting for all interested in Social Security will be held on Tuesday, March 11 at 1:30 (EST) at the county courthouse. Everyone will have the chance to get the answers.

Many of our folks, 65 years old and older, could get themselves eligible for Social Security if they understood how to do it. Others that are younger could be covered by the social security benefits if they took the proper steps.

Social Security coverage may be a great help to the survivors. Social Security is an insurance program, it is not a "give away."

This meeting with University and Social Security personnel is made possible through your local County Agent's office. This meeting is a chance for everyone to ask all the questions they care to in regards to Social Security.

Millstone House Burns

Fire destroyed the four-room home of Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Shutte at Millstone Wednesday morning.

Neighbors noticed the blaze about 10 a.m. and called the Fleming-Neon fire department, which arrived in about 10 minutes. The fire apparently started from a kitchen stove; no one was injured. Mr. and Mrs. Shutte were not at home at the time, neighbors said.

Sgt. Tuttle Graduates

Sgt. William M. Tuttle of Deane graduated recently from the Specialist Academy of the First Corps Artillery at Camp Saint Barbara, Korea.

Sgt. Tuttle has been in Korea for a year; he hopes to return home in April. Before going to Korea, he was stationed four years in England and two years at Fort Knox. He met and married his wife, Mrs. Ruthie Tuttle, in England; she is living now at Deane. They have four children, including a nine-month-old son Sgt. Tuttle has never seen. Sgt. Tuttle's mother is Mrs. Minnie Tuttle.

Woman's Club Has Party

Members of the Woman's Club and their husbands enjoyed a covered dish supper at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Troy Stallard Saturday at 6:30 p.m. Red and white was used in the decorations of the tables. Games and folk dancing directed by W. L. Cooper, Mrs. Harry Caudill and Mrs. Follace Fields were enjoyed.

Mrs. James Brown, Mrs. Robert Stansberry and Mrs. Caudill served on the arrangement committee. Mrs. Tom Gish, Mrs. Harold McIntosh and Mrs. Berwind Kaufmann served as the decorating committee.

February Meeting Held

The February meeting of the Woman's Club was held at the home of Mrs. Walter Owens Feb. 22. Mrs. Zenneth Bentley was the program chairman. Outstanding speaker on the program was Superintendent of Schools, W. B. Hall who gave a most informative talk on the problems and progress of Letcher County Schools.

Mrs. Bentley gave the devotional and Mrs. Huston Westover was the soloist.

Hostesses were Mrs. Emmett Fields, Mrs. Harold McIntosh and Mrs. James Brown.

24 Letcher Teachers Study at Pikeville

Pikeville, Ky. — A record enrollment of 288, including 24 Letcher Countians, in week-end teacher-training classes at Pikeville College was announced today.

With the 470 signed for regular through-the-week classes for the spring semester, the number brings Pikeville's total registration to 758, highest in its history. Dr. A. A. Page, college president, said.

The largest previous figures, also record highs, were last fall's 465 regular students and 270 in week-end classes, totaling 735.

More than 99 per cent of those enrolled are school teachers now in service, from Floyd, Greenup, Johnson, Lawrence, Letcher, Magoffin, Martin, Perry, and Pike counties, Kentucky, and adjoining Virginia and West Virginia areas. Dr. Page said. The classes will meet on Saturday mornings and afternoons through the semester.

Letcher Countians enrolled for Saturday classes at the college are Lovelee Ervin Adams, Burdine; Mildred S. Adams, Jeremiah; Simpson Adams, Jackhorn; James Edward Burchwell, Seco; Anna Charles, Burdine; Ruby C. Collier, Neon; Madge Craft, Mayking; Pelma Jean Dixon, Jenkins; Billy Joe Dunn, Jackhorn; Kenneth B. Gooch, Neon; Lenore C. Haje, Jenkins; Reba Brooks Kincer, Cromona; Sebra H. Kincer, Mayking; Belvia Combs Kiser, Southdown; Mable C. Nichols, Blackey; Lois Farley Perry, Jenkins; Thelma C. Sergeant, Millstone; Bertha Tuer, Jenkins; William Conley Webb, Neon; John H. Welch, Neon; Nancy Sue Welch, Neon; Anne E. Whitaker, Jenkins; and Marjorie Wright, Beefhide.

Grade and high school students throughout Kentucky wrote a total of 28,512 essays for the contest. Of these, 2,268 were written in Letcher County.

Miss Anne Lewis of Whitesburg was first-place winner in the county, and John Compton of Fleming-Neon High School was second prize winner. Miss Lewis will receive a $25 savings bond from the contest sponsors and a certificate proclaiming her the county winner. Compton will receive a certificate and a $10 award from the Neon Lions Club.

The Letcher County District Board of Supervisors expressed appreciation to the people of the county for their support which has made the contest an annual success, according to Cecil Hensley, soil conservationist. Hensley said the supervisors appreciate the help of school officials and personnel and of press and radio in the undertaking.

Nursing School Starts Testing Of Applicants

Washington, D. C. — Interviewing and testing of applicants for the School of Professional Nursing at Harlan, Ky., to begin in September, 1958, was announced today.

The purpose of the school is to educate professional nurses for the 10 Memorial Hospitals which provide services for beneficiaries of the United Mine Workers welfare and retirement fund.

The hospitals are located in Eastern Kentucky, West Virginia and Virginia and have been in operation for two years.

Seven classes of practical nurses already have been trained for duty in the hospitals. Prospective male and female students for the Harlan school will be interviewed at various points in the area of the hospitals beginning this month.

Candidates must have completed high school and passed the entrance requirements of Morehead State College, Morehead, Ky., where the students will be enrolled for the first academic year. The program, leading to a diploma in nursing and registration in Kentucky as a licensed professional nurse (R.N.), will require three years.

During the first two semesters when the student is enrolled at Morehead State College, courses will be offered in human anatomy and physiology, general chemistry, principals of nutrition, microbiology, psychology, sociology, English, and physical education. The remainder of the three years the students will spend in the hospitals of the Miners Memorial Hospital Association, where experience in medical, surgical, pediatric, and obstetrical nursing will be offered. Experience in psychiatric nursing will be made available through an affiliation with one of the state mental hospitals in Kentucky.

The opportunity is open to high school graduates, male and female, between the ages of 17 and 35, who meet the Morehead entrance requirements, and are in good physical and mental health, as determined by tests, and who are able to make acceptable scores on the pre-test given by the Harlan School of Professional Nursing. The schedule for testing and interviewing for the Miners Memorial Hospital Association School of Professional Nursing is as follows:

Beckley, W. Va., March 8; Harlan, Ky., March 15; Hazard, Ky., March 22; Wise, Va., March 29; Williamson, W. Va., April 12.

Further information may be obtained by writing to Miss Grace Decker, director of the School of Professional Nursing, Harlan Memorial Hospital, Harlan.

Letcher County Ranks Second In Essay Total

Letcher County ranked second in the state in the total number of essays written for the soil conservation essay contest recently completed.

Floyd County was first and Jefferson County third.

Grade and high school students throughout Kentucky wrote a total of 28,512 essays for the contest. Of these, 2,268 were written in Letcher County.

Miss Anne Lewis of Whitesburg was first-place winner in the county, and John Compton of Fleming-Neon High School was second prize winner. Miss Lewis will receive a $25 savings bond from the contest sponsors and a certificate proclaiming her the county winner. Compton will receive a certificate and a $10 award from the Neon Lions Club.

New Examination Set For Jenkins Postoffice

The U. S. Civil Service Commission announced today that applications for the office of postmaster at Jenkins will be received until March 25th.

The commission said a written test for all applicants will be given at Big Stone Gap, Virginia. The post pays $4,890 a year.

Competitors for the postmaster vacancy must have at least two years experience showing that they have the ability to conduct and manage the office efficiently and to supervise employees so that the customers are satisfied with the service, the commission said.

It added that competitors must show that they can deal with the public agreeably and effectively, and that they are reliable citizens who would command the respect and confidence of patrons of the post office.

Applicants must take a written test. The agency said that those who pass the test will be assigned final ratings on the basis of the test and on their experience, ability and character. There is a one-year residence requirement, and applicants must have reached their 18th birthday on the closing date for receipt of applications.

The agency said complete information about the examination requirements may be obtained at the Jenkins postoffice. Application forms must be filed with the U. S. Civil Service Commission, Washington 25, D. C., and must be postmarked not later than the March 25th closing date.

Miss Julia Plummer is now serving as Jenkins postmaster under a temporary appointment.

Stuart Adams of Jenkins, president of the corporation, also signed the purchase bond. The tract contains slightly more than an acre of land. The old "recreation building" on it is now being torn down. The building had been condemned as unsafe by the city of Jenkins.

The property was sold to satisfy a judgment foreclosing a $16,500 lien.

Other bidders on the property included George Combs, $6,700; Hennie Bates, $5,100; French Hawk, $3,400; Carl Fitzpatrick, $2,000, and Jesse Bates, $1,000.

Fire Leaves Family Without Home Or Clothing

The 10 children of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Reynolds of Democrat were without clothes or a home today as the result of a fire which destroyed their house Tuesday night.

Reynolds said the blaze started about midnight, while the family was asleep in the seven-room house. He said he singed his hair getting some of the youngsters out of the burning house, and was unable to save any of his family's possessions.

The youngsters include six girls and four boys. The girls' ages are 2, 5, 7, 10, 11 and 12. The boys' ages are 2, 9, 14 and 17.

The Rev. John R. Howard, pastor of Graham Memorial Presbyterian Church, Whitesburg, said he would accept donations of clothing or furniture for the family.

Whitesburg Girls Take Examination In Nurse School

Twelve senior girls from Whitesburg High School took a pre-entrance examination to the School of Professional Nursing of the Miners Memorial Hospital Assn., here Feb. 22.

Miss Grace Decker administered the day-long examination at Whitesburg Memorial Hospital. Afterward, the girls were interviewed.

Those who took the test were Georgette Day, Santa Carol Hall, Zona Gale Spangler, Shelby Jeanne Wright, Sue Carol Stidham, Rosemary Holbrook, Airlene Ingram, Ethelene Frazier, Katy Joyce Fields, Bonita Vest, Blanche Collins and Shelby Sparks.

This is the first year the test has been given in Whitesburg. Formerly applicants had to go to Beckley, W. Va.; Wise, Va.; Harlan or Hazard.

The Future Nurses Club at Whitesburg High School is sponsored by Mrs. Stephen Combs.

Scottsville (Allen county) was named for Gen. Charles C. Scott, fourth governor of Kentucky, and the county's name was selected as a tribute to Col. John Allen, who was killed in the Battle of River Raisin.

confidence of patrons of the post office.

Applicants must take a written test. The agency said that those who pass the test will be assigned final ratings on the basis of the test and on their experience, ability and character. There is a one-year residence requirement, and applicants must have reached their 18th birthday on the closing date for receipt of applications.

The agency said complete information about the examination requirements may be obtained at the Jenkins postoffice. Application forms must be filed with the U. S. Civil Service Commission, Washington 25, D. C., and must be postmarked not later than the March 25th closing date.

City Fire Chief Can't Make Arrests

A city fire chief has no more authority to make arrests than a private citizen, the attorney general's office informed S. J. Bates, Whitesburg.

Bates had asked whether a person in a town of 1300 population could legally act as both the fire marshal and a policeman.

Asst. Atty. Gen. Earle V. Powell, who wrote the opinion, said he assumed "that by fire marshal you mean that such person is the chief of the fire department." He said the fire chief is a municipal officer under Kentucky law and so is a policeman. A person cannot hold two municipal offices at the same time, he added.

"Firemen are not clothed with the powers of a peace officer and are not on the same footing as a sheriff, constable or policeman in making arrests. On the contrary, they are on the same footing as a private citizen and can only make an arrest when they have reasonable grounds for believing a felony has been committed or they have been ordered to do so by a judge or magistrate where an offense is being committed in the presence of said judge or magistrate," Powell said.

Bar Association

Honors Judge Rice

The Letcher County Bar Association has adopted a resolution commending Judge S. H. Rice of Irvine for his work as special judge of Letcher Circuit Court during the January term.

The lawyers wrote Chief Justice John Moremen of the Kentucky Court of Appeals that Judge Rice had filled his duties here "with dignity, honor and with great wisdom of the law." He disposed of "not less than 50 civil actions" during his appointment as special judge here, the resolution added.

Judge Rice was named by the Court of Appeals to conduct court here while Judge Courtney C. Wells, the elected judge, was involved in a suit over the election. The suit later was dropped, and Wells has returned to the bench. He will conduct the April term of Circuit court, which opens April 7.

Magistrate Must Sign Own Name, Opinion States

No one may sign the name of a magistrate to official documents except the magistrate himself, the attorney general's office told Magistrate Add Polly this week.

Polly had requested the opinion.

In the same opinion, the attorney general told Polly that a magistrate may not accept a fine for drunkenness even if the defendant confesses to the charge. The opinion pointed a Court of Appeals decision holding that magistrates have no jurisdiction over criminal cases and added "this means that as justice of the peace you no longer have any authority to pass upon the guilt of any person charged with a crime."

ORDINANCE AN ORDINANCE CHARGING CERTAIN RATES FOR GARBAGE COLLECTION IN THE CITY OF WHITESBURG AND PROVIDING A PENALTY FOR VIOLATION OF SAME.

That Whereas, it appearing to the City Council of the City of Whitesburg that the cost for the hauling of garbage for the household users is prohibitive unless a fixed fee for said services is set by the Council in order to defray said expense, and

Whereas, the businesses of the city are paying their fixed rates for said services and that the funds heretofore collected from businesses is not sufficient to pay for household purposes,

NOW THEREFORE, BE IT ORDAINED BY THE CITY COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF WHITESBURG, AS FOLLOWS:

That from and after the adoption and publication of this Ordinance, as required by law, it is ordained that all heads of families or each household, whether residing in apartments or dwelling houses, within the corporate limits of the City of Whitesburg or those being now served outside the city limits of the city of Whitesburg, shall pay a monthly service charge to the City of Whitesburg in the sum of $1.00. It is further ordained that inasmuch as the failure to use said service creates a health problem in the city, any person who violates this ordinance by their failure to pay said charge for said services for a period of 60 days shall be fined not less than $1.00, nor more than $16.00 for each offense.

This ordinance shall be in full force and effect from and after its adoption and publication as required by law.

This the 4th day of February, 1958.

Arthur T. Banks, Mayor
City of Whitesburg.
Attest: Lois Robinson, Clerk.

Homemakers Corner

By Roberta Holcomb

Do these nice days give you spring fever, or make you want to start digging in the garden? You know, you should have that garden fully planned before real gardening starts. Here are some of the things you should do in March. Plan now so it will be completed by the end of the month.

1. Set cabbage, cauliflower, broccoli, kale, lettuce, and onions in garden.
2. Plant asparagus and rhubarb in permanent garden.
3. Sow seed of eggplant, pepper, and tomatoes in seed flats in hotbed.
4. Sow seeds of cucumber, muskmelon, early squash and watermelon in bands or pats in hotbed.
5. Plant Irish potatoes, radish, turnip, mustard greens, peas, and parsley in garden.

You will notice several seeds should be sowed in hotbeds. A hotbed is easy to make and need not be large. If you would like to try one this year and want some information on it, contact your County Agent, Robert H. Fike, or Assistant County Agent, Elwood Combs or call 2362 in Whitesburg. A hotbed should really pay off in early vegetables.

Schedule

Tuesday, March 11, Rockhouse club will meet at 12:00 E. T. at the home of Mrs. Harold Sparks.

Wednesday, March 12, Colson meets at 10:00 C.T. with Mrs. Bruce Baker. This schedule is one day early. Maykings meets Wednesday night at 7:00 at the home of Mrs. G. Bennet Adams. Thursday, March 13, Blackey will meet at 6:00 C.T. at the home of Mrs. Ed Dixon. As I said last week, the men are invited to attend the March meetings, as this lesson is on "Property Rights."

4-H News

Attend your local 4-H Club this month. Many of the clubs will be having community rallies in which the boys and girls will give demonstrations, and the girls model the sewing they have done.

Caudill in Exercise

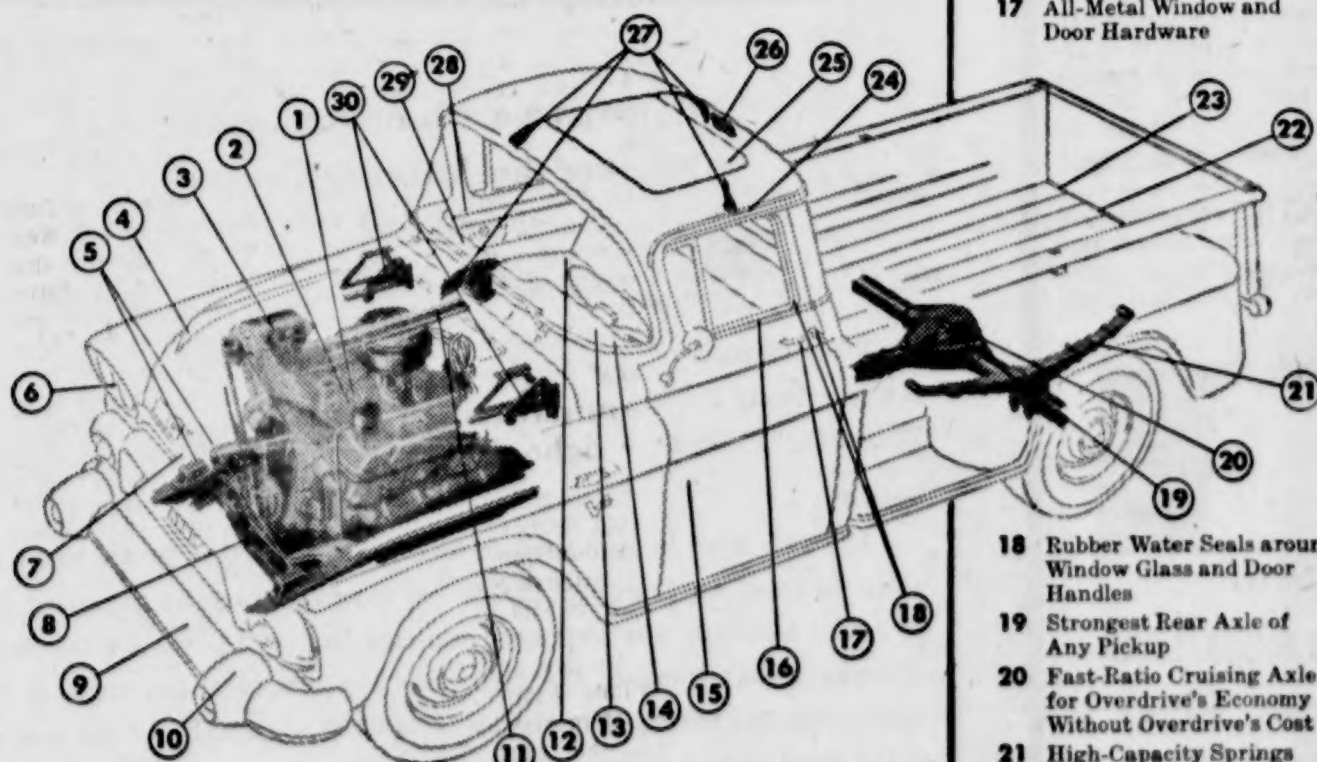

Fort Lewis, Wash. — Pfc. Lonel D. Caudill, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Caudill, Jeremiah, Ky., has become one of the nation's first soldiers to take part in field exercises testing the Army's new "pentomic" battle concept.

The pentomic tactical plan features streamlined units with great mobility and firepower able to meet the needs of Atomic and Missile Age warfare.

Pfc. Caudill is a driver for the 81 Mortar in Company B of the 4th Infantry Division's 2d Battle Group, 47th Infantry here.

ROTARY BULLETIN

Next Meeting — Tuesday, March 4.

Program — Campaign speeches.

Guests — L. D. Swatzer and J. C. Myers; Rotarians—Howard Sheets of Ocala, Florida and Brady Lipscomb of Huntington, W. Va.

Absent — Archie, Jimmie, Virgil and Clel.

After several false alarms Coy finally got around to giving us a program on fishing and it was a honey! He made an expert out of Ray in one easy lesson. Now all he has to do is sell Ray the necessary equipment. Also in the contest between Kentucky and Florida fishermen, Coy won hands down. In fact it seems he feels it will be at least two years before Florida fishermen become fully enlightened regarding modern methods. Maybe we should send them some missionaries. Anyway, thanks Coy for a very enjoyable program.

Clel for president, Woody and Willard for vice president, Albert and Ray for Secretary, Dave and Roy, Jr., for treasurer and Jack, Kermit, Jimmie and Jeff for directors—these are the nominations for your officers for the coming Rotary year. If these do not suit you, the floor is open for further nominations.

Next week we will hear from the candidates and feel sure Lee will need a larger shovel from the oen he had for Coy's speech last week. We will need all the help we can get so how about 100 per cent attendance.

Soil Conservation

The farmers in Letcher County have ordered approximately 250,000 trees to go on mountain land.

One coal company has ordered 40,000 and plans to set this many or more in the spring of 1959.

Mrs. Eugene Howard of Neon plans to make a living fence out of multiflora rose in the near future.

Ben Webb, Oliver Bowling, Bill Craft and Gordon B. Adams plan to set some trees in the spring of 1958.

Coleman Day and Paul Frazier plan to do some tile drainage in 1958.

Willie Lucas of Whitesburg plans to remove some sand washed on his land in the spring flood of 1957.

Hassel Stamper plans to sow some grass in the spring of 1958.

MULLINS IN MANEUVER

Seventh Army, Germany — Pvt. Donald Mullins, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Mullins, Neon, Ky., recently participated in "Sabre Hawk," a Seventh Army maneuver which involved more than 100,000 troops in Germany.

Mullins is regularly stationed in Mainz as a machine gunner in Company A of the 8th Infantry. Overseas since last month, he entered the Army in May 1957 and completed basic training at Fort Riley, Kan.

Mullins attended high school in Fleming.

CYR DONATES BLOOD

Boblingen, Germany — Army Specialist Third Class William Cyr, whose wife, Wilma, lives at Isom, Ky., was one of the first soldiers to respond to a recent German Red Cross appeal for blood donors from American commands.

Blood-bank shortages in German hospitals resulted in the urgent appeal which was met by American soldiers with such promptness and in such numbers that the donations will last far into the spring.

Specialist Cyr, a driver in the 96th Transportation Company in Boblingen, entered the Army in 1955, was last stationed at Fort Dix, N. J., and arrived in Germany last May.

The 26-year-old soldier, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Cyr, 34 Beaver St., Salem, Mass., attended Waterville (Maine) High School.

ROBINSON IN GERMANY

U. S. Forces, Germany—Specialist Third Class Bobby E. Robinson, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Robinson, Jenkins, Ky., recently received a safe driver award in Germany while serving with the 34th Medical Battalion in Germany.

Specialist Robinson, an ambulance driver in the battalion's 655th Company, entered the Army in January 1952 and arrived in Europe in November 1956. He won the battalion award for driving military vehicles 6,000 miles without an accident or traffic violation.

Robinson, 26, was formerly employed by the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad.

BREEDING IN SABRE HAWK

Seventh Army, Germany — Specialist Third Class Bobby J. Breeding, son of Mrs. Oma Breeding, Isom, Ky., recently participated in "Sabre Hawk," a Seventh Army maneuver which involved more than 100,000 troops in Germany.

Specialist Breeding is a tank driver in the 11th Armored Cavalry Regiment's Company C. He entered the Army in August 1956 and arrived in Europe in March 1957.

The 24-year-old soldier attended Whitesburg High School.

The 64,500,000 registered vehicles in the United States traveled 630 billion miles in 1956, according to the National Safety Council.

February 24, 1958

Mr. Robert Sexton
Letcher County Jailer
Whitesburg, Kentucky

Dear Sir:

This is in reply to your letter in which you explain that for the past eight years the fiscal court has paid $209.00 per month to the jailer for taking care of county buildings. The aforementioned sum was paid to you for the month of January, 1958. However, the fiscal court, beginning with the month of February, 1958, has reduced this payment to $125.00 per month and you now ask if the fiscal court may legally reduce this salary during the term for which you were elected.

Our Court of Appeals in the case of Perkins v. Cumberland County, 294 Ky. 737, 172 S. W. 2d 651, in construing KRS 67. 130, held that it was clearly the duty of the fiscal court to fix the jailer's compensation under this section just as the compensation of other officers. The Court further states that the fiscal court, once having fixed it, is without power to change it during the term of office which the jailer is serving. Therefore, in view of this case, we are of the opinion that the fiscal court is without authority to reduce your salary for janitorial services during your present term of office.

Very truly yours,
JO M. FERGUSON

 you get it?

Nowhere but in these pages can you find

- * News about YOUR PERSONAL FRIENDS
- * Local developments affecting YOUR OWN FAMILY
- * Political news about YOUR OWN TOWN
- * School news about the schools YOUR OWN CHILDREN attend
- * Advertisements of the stores right in YOUR OWN SHOPPING AREA

This is YOUR OWN PAPER, written and edited by and for residents of Letcher County, Kentucky. It is the only newspaper in the world which is devoted exclusively to news of interest to Letcher County and which is dedicated to the improvement of Letcher County. Read it; criticize it if you will; help it if you can, by patronizing its advertisers; join it in efforts to make Letcher County the best place in Kentucky to live.

FARM NOTES

By Robert Pike
County Agent

Fruit Trees:

Do you want to have a good crop of fruit in 1958? If so, the time to start is now. Pruning is the first job, followed closely by spraying.

In pruning, the main thing to do is cut out many of the water sprouts, cut out dead and diseased wood, cut out limbs that are rubbing and open up the inside of the tree. Fruit on the inside does not ripen well and by allowing fruit to develop there causes smaller sized fruit the tree over.

Spreyings:

In order for spraying to be beneficial it should be started early. The first "Dormant" spray should be put on before the budding starts in the spring. "General Purpose Orchard Spray" is the most practical to use on small home orchards. This spray is a one package deal that can be used for the complete spraying throughout the season. It is also well adapted for all the fruit trees and grapes.

In an area where we have few commercial orchards, the various materials for spraying cannot be found and with the "one-package" spray being 80 per cent as effective as the commercial, it is much more practical to use.

Planning for Future Fruit:

Trees should be ordered now for spring setting. Nurseries will usually not ship until the time is right for setting, but they need your order if they are to do a good job of filling the orders NOW!

Strawberries:

If you are planning to continue to raise strawberries your patch will need to be reset to insure a good volume of berries. The time to order good plants is NOW! Many patches have gotten out of hand and need to be plowed under after picked this spring. A new patch started this spring will give berries in 1959.

A good time to start into an endeavor is when farmers the country over are going out of it. Strawberries are the best cash crop Letcher county has ever had.

4-H CLUB

By Elwood Combs
Assistant County Agent

With the theme, "4-H Salute to Parents," more than 2,165,000 boys and girls will join in observing National 4-H Club Week from March 1 to 8. These young people—between 10 and 21 years old—are members of the Nation's 4-H Clubs.

Nationally, 4-H Week will be highlighted in Washington, D. C., when six top 4-H members present the annual 4-H Club "Report to the Nation." In stories and pictures the report will summarize the 4-H accomplishments and pay special tribute to 4-H parents who helped to make the achievements possible.

The 4-H'ers expect to review the report with President Eisenhower personally at the White House. They also plan to visit Secretary of Agriculture, Ezra Taft Benson and C. M. Ferguson, administrator of the Federal Extension Service.

Along with the 4-H'ers and their parents, honors will go to the 358,000 volunteer 4-H leaders who help to guide 4-H work in some 90,000 local clubs throughout the 48 states, Alaska, Hawaii, and Puerto Rico.

The overall purpose of National 4-H Club Week is to inform the public about the meaning and value of the 4-H program, to invite boys and girls to join 4-H, to assist new members in starting 4-H projects, and to honor 4-H parents and leaders.

Letcher in Detroit...

by Rev. Byrd Adams

By Mera Carroll Blair

Belinda Carroll Blair, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William L. Blair Jr., celebrated her eighth birthday Jan. 13 with a party at her home. Ice cream, cake and punch were served to 11 of her friends and classmates.

Also celebrating a birthday in the same family was Sondra Jill Blair, who was 11 on Feb. 9. Jill entertained eight of her friends at lunch at her home on Trinity Ave. Afterward, they attended the movies.

Jack Blair, son of Mr. and Mrs. William L. Blair, Jr., attended the Shrine Circus at Detroit Coliseum along with other members of his Cub Scout Pack.

Bill Huffman, formerly of McRoberts, is a candidate for councilman in Madison Heights, Mich.

Mr. and Mrs. Willie Bates visited Mr. and Mrs. Charles Evans of Madison Heights recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Elbert Richardson and Debbie visited Mr. and Mrs. John Krolo recently.

Mrs. Jerry Collier entertained recently with a shower for her sister, Mrs. Norma Gail Revis. Guests included Mrs. Edna Grimms, Ina Lee Howard, Ina Mae Howard, Audrey Stapleton, Delores Breeding, Lois Stidham, Edith Collier, and several Detroit residents. Mrs. Collier lives at St. Clair Shores, Mich.

Three of Mrs. Edith Adams' children from Millstone are visiting their mother in Detroit. They came by bus.

Pat Blair, formerly of Whitesburg, was the guest Saturday night of Mr. and Mrs. Elbert Richardson.

RECIPE OF THE WEEK

A combination of eggs and cheese makes an excellent main dish that is a bargain in both food value and price, say UK Extension foods specialists.

Both foods are in a class with meat, fish and poultry and are excellent sources of high-quality protein, vitamins A and D, and of calcium and other minerals.

The most commonly used cheese is known as cheddar. It is made from sweet milk and is usually pale to deep yellow in color. It has a smooth solid texture, and is mild to sharp in flavor, depending on the age of the cheese. Sharp cheese has been aged for more than 12 months, and is more or less crumbly. It is especially good with bland foods, such as macaroni or rice.

Follow the same rule in cooking cheese or eggs—keep the heat low and don't overcook. High heat or too-long cooking causes both these foods to be rubbery, and cheese to be stringy and harder to digest.

CHEESE FONDUE

2 c milk
2 c soft breadcrumbs
1/2 lb. cheddar cheese
shredded (2c)

4 eggs
3/4 t salt
Pepper

Crumble the slices of bread and pack the measuring cup well. (Don't use fine, dry bread crumbs). Heat the milk and breadcrumbs, then add shredded cheese and stir until cheese has melted. Add to the well-beaten egg yolks and seasonings. Fold into egg whites that have been beaten until stiff. Pour into a greased dish set in a pan of hot water. Bake in a moderate oven, 350 degrees, for about 45 minutes, or when a knife inserted in the center comes out clean. Serve at once. Four to six servings.

MENU: Cheese fondue, steamed rice served with undiluted mushroom soup, buttered spinach, grapefruit-apple salad, rye bread, butter and peach pie.

aid before the priorities now in effect expire. Cumberland, Corbin, Pikeville have asked for aid.

George Pappageorge of the Housing and Home Finance Administration office in Atlanta said the federal government will advance funds to cities to make surveys with an eye to finding out whether proposed urban renewal, slum clearance and public housing projects are feasible.

He emphasized, however, that local governing bodies, such as fiscal courts or city councils, must ask for help before the federal government can give it. The federal agencies and the state agencies cannot come in on their own and do the job, he said: projects must be started locally, but as soon as they are started the federal government has money and technical assistance available.

In order for a city or county to be eligible for federal aid in slum clearance, it must have what is known as a "workable plan." Pappageorge explained. This plan here the state planning agency will provide technical help must show that the land in question is suitable for the new use proposed for it, that the city can raise its share of the cost and that the city will provide new housing so that the blight will be erased and not just moved to another location. In addition, the city or county must have a zoning ordinance, a "major thoroughfare plan," and a landscape plan. All these may be obtained with the help of the state planning agency.

Community participation also is an important element in a successful improvement program. Pappageorge said. "If the citizens take part, you can't fail. Opposition comes usually through lack of understanding."

Grady Lee of Atlanta, explained the Public Housing Administration's program for providing livable homes for low-income families. Frequently slum clearance, urban renewal and public housing programs go hand in hand, each helping the other.

Lee said federal housing is one of the few remaining areas where the federal government pays the entire cost, and the locality where the housing is located pays nothing. The average taxpayer pays about 6 cents a year into the public housing program, he said, compared with 12 cents a year for wild-life preservation.

Once a local governing unit has applied for housing aid and the federal government has determined there is a need for such housing, the federal agency will select the site, build and plan the housing, sell revenue bonds to pay for the project and then give the local government enough money each year to pay interest and principal on the bonds, Lee said. All this is done through a local Municipal Housing Commission, composed of local citizens, but all the money comes from the federal government.

Families who live in the housing projects must be below a certain income level, set locally. The family size determines the size of the housing unit a family may occupy, and the family income determines the amount of rent, Lee said. Thus a family with 10 children may live in a five-bedroom house for the same rent paid by a couple for a one-bedroom apartment.

Originally, most federal housing units were constructed in rows, Lee said, but recently the trend has been to build houses no larger than two-family dwellings and to scatter them throughout an area wherever suitable sites are found.

Forrest Johnson, head of the Division of Planning of the State Highway Department, explained some of his division's plans, not yet approved officially, for roads in Eastern Kentucky. Among projects now in the planning stage, he said, are a road from Hazard to Pikeville, a new route from Jackson to Van Cleve, a better route from Pikeville to Prestonsburg, a new route from Duane to Lost Creek.

Reed urged Eastern Kentucky cities and counties to take advantage of the aid being offered them to clean up unattractive areas and better living conditions.

track, was admired and loved by nearly everyone. The five foot, seven-inch speedster was the most respected basketball player in the county. For two seasons he has been the mainstay of the Cavalier basketball team.

Emory came to Jenkins after graduating from Marshall's Branch grade school in 1954. In his three years at Jenkins he earned four letters in basketball and three each in baseball and track. Smallwood's running ability took him to the state track meet twice. Last season he pitched fifteen consecutive no-hit innings while winning four of four baseball games to help the Green Team reach the finals of the regional tournament.

Jackets, Pirates Close Season With Wins

The Fleming Pirates and Whitesburg Yellowjackets, seeded one-two in the District tournament ended their seasons with victories. Fleming, with Ace Hall and Co., broke three records in downing Leatherwood 127 to 37 at home. Fleming's 127 points erased the old record of 105 set in 1950. Hall tallied fifty-seven points and grabbed 48 rebounds to establish new marks for the 53 district.

Marty Blair registered 28 points to lead Whitesburg to a 62 to 60 win over Combs Memorial.

Emory Smallwood scored 18 points in his final effort for the Cavaliers. Before he fouled out with only four minutes remaining, the little speedster had kept Jenkins in the game against the Lynch Bulldogs. After Smallwood's departure, the Bulldogs increased their three-point lead to 19 to win out 81 to 62 over the Green Team.

Blue Devils Drop Barbourville

Johnny Osley, Slone, Motley and Smith scored in double figures as the Blue Devils routed Barbourville 69 to 34 for their tenth win of the season.

Osley, the District's fifth leading scorer, paced the Dunham attack with 21 points. Slone connected on 11 of 13 charity tosses to give him 19 points. Smith had 14 and Motley got 12 for the Blue Team.

Meeting Time Changed

A meeting of the Letcher County Chapter of the American Cancer Society scheduled for Monday, has been changed to Tuesday, March 11. The meeting will be held at 7:30 p.m. (EST) at the Neon Methodist Church.

PTA's To Meet

The Fleming-Neon Parent-Teacher Association will meet at 7:30 p.m. Monday at the Grade School Auditorium.

The Whitesburg PTA will meet at 3:30 p.m. Tuesday at the Grade School Auditorium.

Attorney Says . . .

for keeping the courthouse clean, Hogg said. This week, Powell wrote Hogg:

"As the question was originally presented to us, we assumed that the total amount of $209 was a fixed fee by order of the fiscal court for janitor services alone under the provisions of KRS 67.130. We did not consider it as being also payments for rent, lights, water, etc. We find nothing in our laws which permits the fiscal court to pay for a jailer's rent or heating his residence, unless it is owned by the county. Therefore, we are of the opinion that the figure which cannot be changed is the $125 which was set by the fiscal court in 1954, and all other payments which have heretofore been made by the fiscal court for rent, etc., may be changed and such reduction does not constitute a change in the jailer's compensation."

No Surplus . . .

per clips, erasers and staples, etc.

It is my opinion that there are not $1,500.00 worth of supplies in the County Judge's office and that the supply therein is not an over supply nor wasteful but they are needed for the ordinary operation of the offices and courts in Letcher County.

Respectfully submitted,
F. Byrd Hogg
